The country paper is now replete with "announcements."The iron heel of "Me and Mike" is still upon the neck of the Minnesota democracy.Wheat has reached a dollar a bushel and is still climbing. The farmer should be happy.A woman at St. Cloud had her nose broken by a foul ball on Friday while witnessing the game.Twelve Indian boys have been sent to Philadelphia to school from the White Earth reservation recently.J. R. G. PETERSON will address the citizens of Brainerd at the opera house the 16th of October. Mr. Pitkin is a celebrated speaker.C. C. BROWN, a well known newspaper man of Duluth, has received $65,000 for a two-thirds interest in a patent safety car truck.There is a United States senator to be elected this winter and it is as much the duty of every republican to stand by their legislative ticket as it is the head of the national ticket.There are six counties in Kentucky that never have had a church within their borders during their sixty years existence. These counties all give large democratic majorities.COL. GRAVES, the republican candidate for election to the Northern Pacific railroad, at Thursday's meeting of the stockholders he voted 361,440 shares and dictated the election of T. F. Oakes to the presidency of the road, after having declined the place himself.The democrats are doing their utmost to down W. R. Morrison by vilification and are resorting to methods only known to tricksters and desperate men. But it will not work.
The people of Minnesota will by their votes in November place Mr. Merrill in the gubernatorial chair. He deserves it and is fully capable to stand at the head of the state government.The Journal sees "something not visible on the surface in the rejection of Mr. Locke" from the republican legislative ticket. Well, did you ever. The only thing that was not visible on the surface was votes enough to nominate Mr. Locke at the convention. There were four candidates for legislative honors and only three could be nominated and the gentleman from Todd county was the unfortunate one. The Journal will have its hands full if it undertakes to regulate both sides.

Gives His Reasons.

Dr. J. H. Wall, a leading physician and prominent member of Northern Wisconsin, who has been foremost in his party for many years has declared for Harrison and Morton, and gives the following reasons which have induced him to renounce democracy:"I believe in protection as a principle. The assertion of Napoleon that Europe must become either all Russian or all Republican, or the famous declaration of Wm. H. Seward, that the 'United States must become all slave or all free,' are not any more true as political axioms than that there is no middle ground between protection as a principle, and free trade as a principle. The democracy under the leadership of Mr. Cleveland has started toward the goal of free trade, either in ignorance of the inevitable tendency of the course they are pursuing or else with the deliberate purpose of conquering their destiny." Mr. Miller, the author of the measure that bears his name, realizes this fact as much as anybody, yet finds it so difficult to enact the role successfully that we find him declaring himself a free trader in Texas one week, and a protectionist in Northwestern states the next. The position assumed by the democratic party in attempting to halt midway between the two propositions is like an army with both wings in the air, as military men say. Its position admits of being turned on either flank and will be turned by the friends of American industry, with the result that the democratic party will be compelled to lay down its arms on the field or else seek refuge behind the fortifications of free trade, and accept the uncertain fortunes of a regular siege.
There must be a settled policy toward our commercial interests, and that policy must be protective since this country is not now prepared to accept its opposite. Universal, unrestricted freedom of commercial intercourse like the dream of uninterupted universal peace may be pleasant to contemplate in theory, but it is utterly impossible in practice under existing conditions."Bricklayers in England get an average of $7.50 per week; masons, $7.00; hod carriers, $1.94. How do these figures compare with the wages paid for the same labor in Detroit?
Detroit Tribune.

THE LEGISLATIVE CONVENTION.

A Strong Ticket Placed in the Field
by the Delegates From the 39th District.The legislative convention for the 39th district to place in nomination three candidates for the legislature met at Little Falls on Wednesday, the 26th inst. The convention was called to order at 11 a. m. by J. C.
Flynn, chairman of the legislative committee. Leon E. Lum, of Crow Wing county, was chosen chairman,
and H. C. Head, of Mille Lacs, secretary. A motion was made and carried that the chair appoint a committee of five on credentials, this committee to report on all the counties excepting Morrison, from which there was a contesting delegation, and that the matter in regard to Morrison county be submitted to the convention for adjustment after the committee had ascertained who were entitled to seats from the other counties. The chair appointed W. E. Lee, C. B. Buckman, J. J. Howe, H. Newbert and N. H.
Ingersoll, and they reported the following delegates as entitled to seats in the convention:Todd county—A. H. Hendricks, W.
E. Lee, S. C. McClintock, S. N.
Thompson and Michael Nessline.Crow Wing county—J. J. Howe, N.
H. Ingersoll, M. Hagberg and L. E.
Lum.Benton county—C. B. Buckman, T.
S. Flint and John Williams.Mille Lacs county—H. C. Head, H.
Newbert and G. W. McFarland.This report was adopted and the convention on motion proceeded to the matter of the Morrison county contest with closed doors, which resulted in seating what was known as the Flynn delegates, both sides being given ample opportunity to explain their cases to the convention.An adjournment was then taken until 2 o'clock for dinner, after which the convention assembled and proceeded to the matter of nominations.
The name of W. A. Fleming, of Crow
Wing county, was presented by J. J.
Howe, James C. Flynn, of Morrison,
by J. H. Rhodes, J. F. Locke, of Todd,
by Wm. E. Lee, and R. C. Dunn, of Mille Lacs, by H. C. Head. A motion to proceed to ballot, the three gentlemen receiving the highest number of votes to be declared the nominees of the convention was made and carried.
The chair appointed W. M. Fuller
and N. H. Ingersoll as tellers, and the result of the ballot showed the following vote:W. A. Fleming 19, R. C. Dunn 17, James C. Flynn 16, and J. F. Locke 5.Messrs. Fleming, Flynn and Dunn were declared the nominees.On motion of W. M. Fuller the chair appointed the following gentlemen as the legislative district committee for the ensuing two years:J. H. Rhodes, of Morrison county; N. H. Ingersoll, of Crow Wing; F. S.
Flint, of Benton; H. Newbert, of Mille Lacs, and W. E. Lee, of Todd.
The convention then adjourned.The editor of the Journal accuses Judge Fleming of ignorance and says "that the reason why salt, paper, woolen and crockery were cheaper now than before a duty was laid upon them" is "because the facilities for producing these commodities have been so increased by improved machinery that prices have been reduced."
We would like to ask the Journal
man to please inform us if he ever saw the machinery with which salt is produced? If so, please tell us what it looked like. We had always supposed that salt being produced either by evaporation or by mining, very little machinery was required in producing it. Think this over a little, Mr. Journal, and see if you were not mistaken about improved machinery reducing the price of salt.
So, too, with the manufacture of paper. It has always been our idea that the same simple process, and almost the same simple machinery were employed in pulp and paper making that were employed fifty years ago, and we think we are right.
It is the simplest thing in the world to make paper. No such complicated and "improved" machinery as the Journal describes are needed. We think this is also true of woolen ware, and certainly crockery is to-day just what it was in olden times, "clay in the hands of the potter." No costly machinery and nothing that has been fostered and built up these industries at home, until they became so numerous that the law of competition at home among our own producers and manufacturers brought the prices down—nothing else. The Journal's "improved machinery" theory is all bosh. The Journal's attitude on the tariff question and his attempt to reconcile himself to the free trade platform of his party, reminds us of the story of the Boston boy who didn't want to take castor oil, but who had so much faith in Boston and her traditional baked beans, that when his mother assured him that castor oil was made of beans he immediately took the distasteful dose without complaining. The Journal man is trying to make himself believe that free trade is not free trade, but the best kind of protection.

Timely Warning.

Eminent scientists who have been examining the question closely declare that "the habit of chewing gum by ladies causes a beard to grow on their chin. The constant working of the under jaw is said in some manner to stimulate the roots of almost invisible hairs on the beautiful female chin,
and whiskers make their appearance."

The Legislative Ticket.

The republican legislative ticket nominated at Little Falls on Wednesday, is worthy of the cordial support of every republican in the 39th district. The candidates are each staunch republicans and they can be relied upon to support and maintain the principles of the party with fidelity. W. A. Fleming, the nominee from this county, is well and favorably known and his republicanism has never been questioned. He is a man of ability and will ably represent us
and his untiring efforts will be for the interests of the 39th district. J. C.
Flynn, of Morrison, has already served one term faithfully and has merited
the confidence of his constituents.
That Mr. Flynn is a strong man cannot be denied when it is considered that at the last election he carried Morrison county by three hundred,
and the county on a strictly party vote,
is democratic by three hundred. R.
C. Dunn, the candidate from Mille Lacs, is a young man of promise whose integrity is unquestioned. Mr.
Dunn is the editor of the Princeton Union and is a thoroughly live and progressive man. In his own county no man stands better with the community than "Bob" Dunn, which is the same wherever he is known.The ticket as a whole is one of the best that could have been chosen, as regards strength to the party and the character and standing of the candidates. It is almost a certainty that the election of the entire ticket by a good round majority on the 6th of November will be heralded to the world.

Rather Confident.

A strange written agreement in a betting case on the results of the national election between two Swedish farmers, Ole Johnson and Hans Erikson has been placed in the hands of a business man in Omaha as stake holder. The agreement sets forth that in the event of Cleveland's re-election Mr. Johnson shall forfeit his wife, Johanna Johnson to Mr. Erikson, but if Harrison is elected Mr. Johnson is to receive from Erikson a Jersey cow, valued at $55. The bet is a bona fide one and all parties concerned are serious, Johanna expressing the hope that Cleveland may be elected. After securing a stake holder the trio made merry and drank to the success of Cleveland and Harrison.
Erikson is a widower and has long cast sheep's eyes at the fair and 40 Johanna.

Didn't Do It.

We wish to extend to the editor of the Journal our sincerest thanks for his generosity, and to assure him, in a friendly way, that he is mistaken when he says that we had the questions which we propounded to him at the recent joint debate published.
We did not such thing. We did not think they were of sufficient importance even to claim a place in the columns of any newspaper. The discussion itself came about, so far as we were concerned, in a friendly way,
and was carried on in the same spirit.
When it ended it passed entirely out of our mind, and we knew nothing of the publication complained of until we read it in the Dispatch. We presume, however, that the Dispatch had an undoubted right to publish the questions if it wanted to, and we find no fault. We may be permitted to say in passing, that since they were published we have been assured by many members of both parties that the questions were well put and
contained the real issues of the day, and that if they had been answered as fairly as they were put Mr. Stivers would be entitled to some credit.
Be this as it may, we claim no credit and want no praise. Whatever we do or say we expect the public to exercise the right to criticize us, and if our friend cannot grant the same privilege we are sorry for him.

W. A. FLEMING.

Campaign Notes.

Grover Cleveland has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any prime minister of England has ever done.—London Spectator.On that broad question (free trade) Mr. Cleveland's candidature naturally and necessarily carries English sympathy.—London Globe.A Pittsburg business man, who has just returned from Europe, asked an English manufacturer during his visit to this country whether the Cobden Club was sending free trade literature
to the United States this year or not.
The British replied:"No, this year. We made blasted fools of ourselves before in sending printed stuff to the States, you know, but we've substituted barrels of the useful stuff, and hope for the success of the democratic party."
—Boston Journal.President Cleveland has refused to sign over $300,000 private pension bills which congress said ought to be allowed. Well, a man who will cheat his substitute out of half of his pay and permit him to die in the poorhouse at last is just that kind of a President. What's his another term?
—Detroit Tribune.Mr. Thurman will say to-night that the tariff is a tax. Ask him how it is that the "tax" on carpets has promoted their manufacture here, so that carpet that sold for $1.40 per yard before the "tax" created the industry, now sells for 65 cents per yard. Doesn't that look like a funny sort of a "tax"?
New York Press (Rep.).The best form of retaliation against Canada and Great Britain is that of

ciently high to prevent them from

The Right Spirit.

The Todd County Argus has the following to say of the legislative ticket, which shows the right spirit.
Certainly Mille Lacs county was entitled to the representative this year if she desired it, and if such had not been the case the Todd county candidate would have received the nomination:The republican legislative convention held at Little Falls yesterday put in nomination W. A. Fleming, of Crow Wing; J. C. Flynn, of Morrison,
and R. C. Dunn, of Mille Lacs county.
The ticket is composed of good men who are worthy of the support of the people. For four years past Mille Lacs county has cheerfully given way to Todd county and helped to elect our member, and in turn our county should respond and give our friend
R. C. Dunn a rousing vote. J. F.
Locke, of Burnhamville, was a candidate but failed, but this is no reason why our Republican friends should not give the ticket a hearty support.
There is a United States senator to be elected this winter, and it is important that this district should send a republican delegation.

Mrs. S. P. Fleming, who has been at Two Harbors for some time returned to Brainerd the first of the week.

J. H. Koop is probably the happiest man in town this week. On Tuesday morning Mrs. Koop presented him with a fine boy baby and J. H. says he is a democrat, just like his father. Cigars and congratulations have been in order.

H. P. Hall, of St. Paul, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. Hall is a veteran in the newspaper business, but just at present is engaged with a company in developing natural gas wells near Albert Lea, and he informs us that the prospects are very flattering.

Dr. Bigger left last night for St. Paul. The Doctor wishes it understood that he is still in the employ of the company and has not left Brainerd for good. Dr. W. Courtney succeeds Dr. Bigger at the N. P. Sanitarium and has already taken charge. The appointment is a good one and is entirely satisfactory.

S. H. Parker has acquired a half interest in F. A. B. King's wood and coal yard and will assume charge of it on Monday next. Mr. Parker is known by all to be a hustler from way back and his numerous friends are all pleased to learn of his new venture which cannot fail to be a success under his supervision.

A special from Leach Lake says that "on Friday, Sept. 21st, while J. A. Thompson, the government blacksmith, was at work in the shop, he was attacked by an Indian named May-day-gwon-o-nind. The Indian struck the blacksmith over the head with a large, heavy padlock and attempted to repeat the blow, saying, "I am going to kill you." The blacksmith seized a hammer but was prevented from using it by Indian bystanders. The blacksmith's wound is a serious one, the scalp being cut open in two places, one of the gashes being several inches in length. May-day-gwon-o-nind has always been regarded as a desperate character and is feared by the Indians. He boasted before he went into the shop that he would kill the blacksmith and afterward the rest of the white men here. He is now under arrest, guarded by the physician and preacher. Thompson has returned from Brainerd. He could not get a warrant, the county attorney refusing to issue one."

Good If True. For several days it has been reported that negotiations were in progress for the purchase of Water Power & Boom Companies interest by eastern capitalists. Although it is safe to state that these rumors are well founded and that the deal is expected to be closed in a few days, we do not feel at liberty to publish the details as rumored on the streets.

Willis-Carver. At the Catholic church in this city, at 9 o'clock a. m., on Monday, Sept. 22, 1888, by the Rev. Father Watry, Mr. Thomas Willis, of Brainerd, to Miss Anna Carver.

The contracting parties are both well and favorably known to Brainerd and a host of friends extend to them congratulations.

Olson-Jackson. At the residence of the officiating clergyman in this city, on Saturday, Sept. 22, 1888, by Rev. J. A. Rowell, Mr. Sivert Olson to Miss Jennie Jackson.

A Speaker From the South. F. G. Sundberg has received official notification that J. R. G. Pitkin, of Louisiana, will address the people of this city October 10th, on the political issues of the day from a republican standpoint. Mr. Pitkin is a southern gentleman, a gentleman of known ability as a speaker, and his address will be interesting. Arrangements will be made for a rousing rally and torch light procession. Further particulars will be given in our next issue.

Remember that Wednesday morning is baby's day at Robinson's.

First Class in Every Respect. The boards at Sleeper's Opera House have been occupied during the past week by the Hunt & Keene Theatre Co., and although the company is one of the strongest and most meritorious that has ever visited this city, the attendance has been unusually small. On Monday night this excellent company presented Bartley Campbell's charming comedy "Fate," on Tuesday evening the "Pearl of Savoy," and on Wednesday evening the "Octoroon," and on last evening that magnificent emotional military drama entitled "Lynwood" was produced. This is much the strongest play that has been presented by this excellent company, and was enthusiastically received by the small but appreciative audience present. Miss Gage, as Lucille, surpassed all former efforts, and deserved the rounds of applause that greeted her. She is a finished and conscientious actress, excelling in those powerful emotional scenes upon which so much depends in a proper rendition of such plays as "Lynwood." She is one of the best, if not the best emotional actress that has visited Brainerd for years. Mr. Barry Fuller, as the federal officer and lover of Lucille, impersonated the part with much grace and spirit, while Mr. Kent Thomas, as Judge Carlyle, was all that a stern father and southern gentleman of honor should be. Mr. Hunt as Mr. Carter won the admiration of the audience, while Mr. Keene as Major Middleton, the commander of the Kentucky Independents was beyond criticism. To-night by special request of many of our prominent citizens the company will reproduce the Pearl of Savoy, and to-morrow evening will appear for the last time in our city in Joaquin Miller's romantic drama, "49." At to-morrow's matinee "East Lynne" will be presented. As this is an unusually meritorious troupe, we hope our citizens will turn out and fill the opera house to-morrow night, and thus by their presence show their appreciation of this higher class of entertainment.

Quite Romantic.

The Globe correspondent from this city reports on the following:

A queer story of the war of the Rebellion and the sundering it made of family ties, is brought to light here to-day in the discovery and identification of a long-missing heir to an estate in Virginia, recently become very valuable in coal mines. The estate was that of Pleasant Williams who on the Virginia side of the Cumberland mountains, some twenty miles from Cumberland Gap, when the war broke out, William, who was the elder son, was in school in Kentucky, and espoused the Union cause, enlisted in a Kentucky regiment, and served through the war. An accident of his soldier life was capturing a brother in the battle of Perryville, who was in the confederate army. The war ruined his family's property, and hearing of the death of his father, he was greatly attached to this Union, and was greatly attached to the Northwest, and was heard of no more, except a well-defined report of his death. The ruined family left Virginia and drifted to Missouri, and the remaining children prospered and some got rich. In recent times coal mines of great value were found underlying the old plantation, and a syndicate purchased the same for a large sum, but the title could not be perfected without proof of the son William's support of the Union. A search followed, which led from clue to clue to this discovery of William Williams here, where he is engaged in market gardening as a common laborer. E. W. Spencer, the syndicate agent, who found him, was accompanied by William's brother John, who, when the two last met, was a six-year-old lad, before the war broke out. The missing heir was paid over a nice sum of money, and is to receive, on completion of the papers, a sufficiency to make him well off the rest of his life. William was a soldier of the Twentieth Kentucky, and has a homestead in this city, where he will build good buildings upon, and remain, at least, until his life is perfected. His mother is still living, and he will pay her a visit.

Republicans Attention.

There will be a meeting of the republican clubs at the central club rooms in Sleeper block on Monday evening, Oct. 1st, to make arrangements for a grand demonstration on the evening of Oct. 16th, at which time J. R. G. Pitkin, of Louisiana, will address the people. Let every republican in the city, whether a member of the different clubs or not, turn out on Monday evening and assist in completing the arrangements.

Yellowstone Park.

The Yellowstone Park association have decided to keep hotels open in the Park during the month of October. Trains will make the round trip between Livingston and Cinnabar on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The round trip fare will be $4.50. Stage fare from Cinnabar to Upper Geyser Basin and Grand Canon will not exceed $15 for the round trip. The hotel rate will be $3 per day.

"Three of a Kind."

"Three of a Kind" is a conundrum, but it is funny. The play consists of a sort of farcude of repartee which keeps the audience thoroughly entertained and hardly give it time to think whether the play has any merits or not. It does without saying that by the object of the author is accomplished. Mr. Edward E. Kidder, who is responsible for "Three of a Kind" evidently had no serious thoughts of manufacturing a piece that would require any particular critical acumen to review. He, no doubt, intended placing in the mouths of the characters a series of funny sayings which would amuse the average theatre goer, and he did it. In the hands of Nellie McHenry & Co. as can well be imagined, Mr. Kidder's work appeared to advantage. The clever people who interpreted the piece introduced several specialties, and the audience that filled the theatre last night was thoroughly satisfied. The laughter was incessant and the applause was frequent. Nellie McHenry, John Webster and Thos. E. Jackson were all good, and the performance was a success.

The above piece will be put on at the opera house on Wednesday evening next, October 3rd. It is a bright, sparkling play, and will give universal satisfaction. Admission 50c. Reserved seats $1.00. Gallery 50 cents.

Attention Firemen.

A special meeting of the Brainerd fire department will be held at the central hose house on Thursday evening, Oct. 4, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of giving an annual parade. A full attendance from all companies is desired. By order of large democratic majorities.COL. GRAYES, the republican candidate for legislative honors from Duluth, has already begun a canvass for

can legislative ticket. Well, did you ever. The only thing that was not visible on the surface was votes enough to nominate Mr. Locke at the
regulate both sides.

Gives His Reasons.

Dr. J. H. Wall, a leading physician and prominent democrat of Northern
duced him to renounce democracy:"I believe in protection as a prin-
Europe must become either a Russian or a Republican, is the famous declaration of Wm. H. Seward, that
protection and a principle, and free
purpose of concealing their destination. Mr. Mills, the author of the
finds it so difficult to enact the law necessitating that we find him declaring
week, and a protectionist in a Northern state the next week. The position assumed by the democratic party in
with both wings in the air, as military men say. Its position admits of being turned on either flank and will be turned by the friends of American industry with a result that the democratic party will be compelled
else seek refuge behind the fortifications of free trade, and accept the uncertain fortunes of a regime segmenting with a settled policy toward
like the dream of uninterrupted
terly impossible in practice under existing conditions."Bricklayers in England get an average of $7.56 per week; masons, $7.08; hod carriers, $4.94. How do these figures compare with the wages
paid for the same labor in Detroit?

39th District.The legislative convention for the 39th district to place in nomination
three candidates for the legislature
met at Little Falls on Wednesday,
called to order at 11 a. m. by J. C.
Flynn, chairman of the legislative
Wing county, was chosen chairman,
and H. C. Head, of Mille Lacs, sec-
ascertained from the other counties.
The chair appointed W. E. Lee, C. B. Buckman, J. J. Howe, H. Newbert and N. H.
Ingersoll, and they reported the fol-
in the convention:Todd county—A. H. Hendricks, W.
E. Lee, S. C. McClintock, S. N.
Thompson and Michael Nesline.
Crow Wing county—J. J. Howe, N.
H. Ingersoll, M. Hagberg and I. E.
Lum.Benton county—C. B. Buckman, F.
S. Flint and John Williams.
Mille Lacs county—H. C. Head, H.
Newbert and G. W. McFarland.
This report was adopted and the
convention on motion proceeded to
the convention assembled and pro-
Wing county, was presented by J. J.
Howe, James C. Flynn, of Morrison,
by J. H. Rhodes, J. F. Locke, of Todd,
the convention was made and carried.
result of the ballot showed the following vote:W. A. Fleming 19, R. C. Dunn 17, James C. Flynn 16, and J. F. Locke 15.
Messrs. Fleming, Flynn and Dunn
chair appointed the following gentlemen as the legislative district committee for the ensuing two years:
J. H. Rhodes, of Morrison county;
N. H. Ingersoll, of Crow Wing; F. S.
Flint, of Benton; H. Newbert, of
Mille Lacs, and W. E. Lee, of Todd.
The convention then adjourned.The editor of the Journal accuses Judge Fleming of ignorance and says "that the reason why salt, paper,
woolen and crockery were cheaper
chinery that prices have been reduced."
us what it looked like. We had al-
mining, very little machinery was required in producing it. Think this
over a little, Mr. Journal, and see if
machinery reducing the price of salt.
that the same simple process, and al-
ing that were employed fifty years ago, and we think we are right. It is the simplest thing in the world
think this is also true of woolen wear,
machinery and nothing that has not been employed for ages. No, it is not because of improved machinery, but because of a protective tariff which has fostered and built up these industries at home, until they became
tion at home among our own pro-
Journal's "improved machinery" the-
the story of the Boston boy who did not want to take castor oil, but who
ately took the distasteful dose without
best kind of protection.

hairs on the beautiful female chin,

nominated at Little Falls on Wednesday, is worthy of the cordial sup-
and his untiring efforts will be for the
interests of the 39th district. J. C.
Flynn, of Morrison, has already served
the confidence of his constituents.
Morrison county by three hundred,
and the county on a strictly party vote,
is democratic by three hundred. H.
C. Dunn, the candidate from Mille Lacs county, is a young man of promise whose integrity is unquestioned. Mr.
Union and is a thoroughly live and
dates. It is almost a certainty that the election of the entire ticket by a good round majority on the 6th of November will be heralded to the world.

Rather Confident.

national election between two Swed-
Erikson has been placed in the hands
election Mr. Johnson shall forfeit his wife, Johanna Johnson to Mr. Erikson,
but if Harrison is elected Mr. John-
sey cow, valued at $55. The bet is a
bona fide one and all parties concerned are serious. Johanna expressing
the hope that Cleveland may be elect-
ed. After securing a stake holder
success of Cleveland and Harrison.
Johanna.

Didn't Do It.

the recent joint debate published.
think they were of sufficient importance to claim a place in the columns of any newspaper. The discussion itself came about, so far as
and was carried on in the same spirit.
When it ended it passed entirely out of our mind, and we knew nothing of the publication complained of until we read it in the Dispatch.
We presume, however, that the Dispatch had an undoubted right to publish the questions if it wanted to, and we find no fault. We may be permitted
to say in passing, that since they
and that if they had been answered
would be entitled to some credit.
privilege we are sorry for him.

W. A. FLEMING.

Campaign Notes.

ever done.—London Spectator.
On that broad question (free trade)
Mr. Cleveland's candidature naturally and necessarily causes English sympathy.—London Globe.
A Pittsburg business man, who has
just returned from Europe, asked an
to this country whether the Cobden
to the United States this year or not.
The Britisher replied:
"No, not this year. We made
blasted fools of ourselves before in
sending printed stuff to the States.
You know, but we will send it in the future. The useful stuff, and hope for the success of the democratic party."
which congress sent out to be al-
his subordinates out of half of his pay
President. Want him another term?
—Detroit Tribune.Mr. Thurman will say to-night that the tariff is a good thing, but that the "tax" on carpets has promoted
pet sold for $1.40 per yard before the "tax" created the industry, now sells for 95 cents a yard. Doesn't that look like a funny sort of a "tax"?
maintaining a protective tariff suffi-
selling their products to our markets at prices with which American labor cannot compete except by a reduction of 20 to 50 per cent in wages.—St.

The Right Spirit.

tion:The republican legislative conven-
Crow Wing, J. C. Flynn, of Morrison,
and R. C. Dunn, of Mille Lacs county.
Lacs county has cheerfully given way
to Todd county, and helped to elect
R. C. Dunn a rousing vote. J. F.
Locke, of Burnhamville, was a candi-
not give the ticket a hearty support.
elect this winter, and it is important
publican delegation.
